Confidentiality Agreement

The Transit Lounge
Mindfulness. Money. Meaningful work.

During the program Group Members may provide information about their businesses and themselves that must be kept confidential. To protect their information, and yours, each member will complete a Confidentiality Agreement.

Please read and sign below to acknowledge you accept the Confidentiality Agreement.

As a member of Women In Transit:

1. I agree that during the course of the program confidential information of the other party/parties may be shared and I agree both during and after the Term of the program to maintain the confidential information and to prevent its unauthorised disclosure to and use by any other person, firm or company, for any reason whatsoever unless authorised in writing to disclose any confidential information by that other party.

2. I understand that Confidential Information includes: business ideas, invention descriptions, technical and business information relating to proprietary ideas and inventions, trade secrets, drawings/illustrations, patent searches, existing and/or contemplated products and services, research and development, production, costs, profit and margin information, financial information, customers, clients, marketing, and current or future business plans and models, regardless of whether such information is designated as "Confidential Information" at the time of its disclosure.

3. I agree not to disclose the confidential information shared during the program unless required to do so by law.

4. I acknowledge and agree that I have no rights to the intellectual property of the other group members.

I have read, understand and voluntarily accept this Agreement:
